JOHN BARRED OUT.

The Exclusion Act Held to Be Valid.

A Lengthy Decision Delivered Through Justice Field.

The Legislative Department May Override Treaties.

The Scott Law Declared to Be Wholly Within the Constitution—Return Certificates Not a Contract,

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Court today rendered an opinion in the case of Chae Chang Ping, appellant, vs. the Collector of the Port of San Francisco. This is the suit brought to test the constitutionality of the Scott Chinese Exclusion Act.

Shortly after the act went into effect, Chae Chang Ping returned to the United States from China and endeavored to secure entrance at the port of San Francisco. He left this country armed with a certificate entitling him to return, but the certificate was declared invalid by the Scott act. The Collector refused him admittance, and suit was then brought in the United States Court for the District of California to test the constitutionality of the Scott act, in accordance with the provisions of which the Collector acted. The California courts upheld the constitutionality of the act, and from this decision the case came here on appeal.

This Court affirms that judgment. It holds that Congress has power to abrogate a treaty, and, in support of that view, cites authorities of courts on the subject, holding that the propriety of such action is not a matter for judicial cognizance, but that it is a matter for the political department. Congress, it says, has power to exclude aliens from the country whose presence is deemed inimical to our interests.

In considering the case, Justice Field traversed, at considerable length, the general character of the treaties between the two countries, and the legislation of Congress to carry them into effect.

The opinion then proceeds: "As the Chinese grew in numbers each year, the people of the Pacific Coast saw, or believed they saw, in the facility of immigration and in the crowded millions of China, where population presses upon the means of subsistence, great danger that, at no distant day, that portion of our country would be overrun with them, unless prompt action were taken to restrict the immigration. The people there accordingly petitioned earnestly for protective legislation."

Here is rehearsed the treaty and legislative history of the Chinese question, ending with the Scott Act.

As to the objection that the act is in conflict with treaties, the opinion says: "It must be conceded that the act of 1888 is in contravention of the express stipulation of the treaty of 1868 and of the supplemental treaty of 1880, but it is not on that account invalid or to be restricted in its enforcement. Treaties are of no greater legal obligation than the Constitutional laws made in pursuance thereof and treaties made under authority of the United States are both declared to be the supreme law of the land, and no paramount authority is given to one over the other. The last expression of sovereign will must control. It will not be presumed that the legislative department of the Government will lightly pass laws which are in conflict with the treaties of the country; but that circumstances may arise which would not only justify the Government in disregarding its stipulations, but demand in the interests of country that it should do so, there can be no question. The question whether our Government is justified in disregarding its engagements with another nation is not one for the determination of courts."

Continuing the opinion discusses another branch of the subject as follows: "There being nothing in the treaty between China and the United States to impair the validity of the act of Congress of October 1, 1888, was it on any other ground beyond the competency of Congress to pass it? If so, it must be because it was not within the power of Congress to prohibit Chinese laborers who had at the time departed from the United States, or should subsequently depart, from returning to the United States. These laborers are not citizens of the United States. They are aliens. That the Government of the United States through the actions of the legislative department can exclude aliens from its territory is a proposition which we do not think open to controversy. The existence of war would render the necessity of excluding them only the more obvious and pressing. The same necessity, in a less pressing degree, may arise when war does not exist, and the same authority which adjudges the necessity in one case must determine in another. In both cases its determination is conclusive upon the judiciary. If the government of the country of which the foreigners excluded are subjects is dissatisfied with this action, it can make complaint to the executive head of our Government or resort to any other measure which, in its judgment, its interest or dignity may demand, and there lies its only remedy. The power of the Government to exclude foreigners from the country wherever and whenever in its judgment public interests require such exclusion, has been asserted in repeated instances and never denied by the executive or legislative department."

In conclusion the opinion says: "The power of exclusion of foreigners being incident of the sovereignty belonging to the Government of the United States as a part of those sovereign powers designated by the Constitution, the right to its exercise at any time in the judgment of the Government the interests of the country require it, cannot be granted away or restrained on behalf of any one. The powers of the Government are delegated in trust to the United States and are incapable of transfer to any other parties. They cannot be abandoned or surrendered. Nor can their exercise be hampered when needed for the public good by any consideration of private interest."

"The exercise of their public trusts is not a subject of barter or contract. Whether the license, therefore, a Chinese laborer may have obtained previous to the act of October 1, 1888, to return to the United States, after departure is held at the will of the Government, revocable at any time at its pleasure; whether proper consideration by our Government of its previous relations, or proper respect for the Nation whose subjects are affected by its action, ought to have qualified its inhibition and make it applicable only to persons departing from the country after the passage of the act, are not questions for judicial determination. If there be any just ground of complaint on the part of China, it must be made to the political department of our Government, which is alone competent to act upon the subject. The rights and interests created by treaty, which have become so vested that expiration or abrogation will not destroy or impair them, are such as are connected with and lie in property capable of sale and transfer, or other disposition, and are not such as are personal and untransferable in their character."

THE CHARLESTON.

ARRIVAL OF THE CRUISER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Naval Officers Enthusiastic Over Her First Trial—Some Slight Defects To Be Remedied Before Testing Her Again.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The warship Charleston arrived here tonight from Santa Barbara, the builders deciding to return to the works with the cruiser to re-dress the slides of the starboard high-pressure engine before giving her a second trial. The cruiser exceeded the estimates of the Navy Department as to speed with only a partial development of her horse-power, and has shown a capacity under ordinary steam pressure to equal the feats of the fastest cruisers afloat.

The naval officers detailed to inspect the Charleston declare that with a developed horse-power of 5500, she is one of the fastest fighting ships in the world, and with a few modifications, to be made at the works, she will not only be able to excel with 7000 horse-power the record of the Nanakawan, her sister ship, but threatens to rival the one or two exceptionally fast cruisers which have covered 19 knots.

During the 17-minute run of the Charleston in Santa Barbara channel on Saturday, the actual horse-power developed was 5823, at which time an average speed of 18¼ knots was maintained with 107 revolutions of the propellers.

[illegible] day morning, the ship was driven at a speed of 17 3-10 knots with natural draft and making easy steam. This was with a development of 4780 horse-power and an average of 105 revolutions. When off Point Concepcion the thrust bearing of the port engine warmed up, and the ship was stopped to examine it. As soon as the thrust caps had been taken off, cleaned and replaced, the cruiser went ahead again, running at an average of 19 knots to 72 revolutions of the propellers.

The run from Point Concepcion to this port was made without special incident. The steamships San Blas and Queen of the Pacific, downward bound, were passed, the passengers cheering the Charleston as she went by, the ships dipping their colors and saluting with their whistles, and the cruiser responding in a similar manner. The Charleston passed through the Golden Gate at 7:15 p.m. and steamed up the bay to her anchorage at Mission Rock.

CHIEF ENGINEER MELVILLE'S OPINION.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Chief Engineer Melville is of the opinion that the cruiser Charleston will succeed in making the necessary 7000 horse-power in another trial. It appears that the trouble with the port engine is located in the crosshead guide, which has been the only faulty spot shown in the trip down from San Francisco. When the fault developed, recourse was had to the device of placing a shim or thin wedge of metal between the troublesome points, and this expedient probably was not sufficient to meet the case.

The trouble is not serious and can be remedied easily. The fact that the boilers made steam so rapidly that they were blowing off during the trial is regarded by engineers as a promising realization of the horse-power requirement. When the defect in the port engine is corrected, and the steam can all be used, increased speed is looked for upon the next trial.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The Giants returned to the home grounds today and played their first game with the Clevelands this afternoon. Both clubs made plenty of errors, but the New Yorkers made theirs at critical times, which counted heavily against them.

WHERE IS CRONIN?

The Chicago Mystery Grows Deeper.

The Alleged Interview at Toronto Probably a Fake.

Woodruff Claims That he Could Make Revelations.

Chicago Police Still Hunting for the Murdered Girl—An Indignant Protest Issued from the Clan-na-Gael.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Capt. Schaack is fully convinced that the corpse supposed to be connected with the Cronin case, for which his men have been dragging Lincoln Park pond, was buried beneath the waters of Lake Michigan.

Young Woodruff was today bound over to the criminal court on a charge of horse stealing. Afterwards he was shown a number of photographs, among which was one of Cronin. This he either would not or could not point out. Woodruff or Black, as he sometimes calls himself, stated that he received money from his father, J. Black, of San Francisco, last Thursday and this was verified tonight, the records of the express company showing it. This evening Black made a positive statement that he knows Cronin is alive, but is unable or unwilling to say how he knows it. He says he has not told all he knows about the trunk, and will not until his father and brother arrive to bail him out.

The Court of Forresters, to which Cronin belonged in Chicago, voted tonight $100 to aid in the search for him, and passed a resolution calling on other Illinois courts to coöperate.

THE TORONTO STORY A FAKE.

Patrick McGarry who was sent to Toronto by Dr. Cronin's friends here wired tonight from that city as follows:

COUNCIL.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT PROJECTS ON THE STOCKS.

Resolutions Relative to the First-street Stumbling Blocks—Condemnation Proceedings to Commence—The Third-street Tunnel Defeated—A Veto from the Mayor.

The City Council met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, President Frankenfield and Councilmen Summerland, McLain, Bonsall, Hamilton, Brown, Van Dusen, Shafer and Wirsching present.

Mayor Hazard returned the ordinance regulating the carrying of swill through the streets of the city without his approval. It was done, he said, at the request of members of the Council, who desired to make some changes in its provisions. The vote by which it passed was reconsidered.

Mr. Summerland moved to pass the ordinance over the veto, but there was no second.

Mr. Wirsching desired to change the time for the carrying of swill provided in the ordinance for the better convenience of citizens, and the ordinance was referred to the Board of Health.

The report of balances for the week showed the street-sprinkling department overdrawn $83.04.

The Street Commissioner reported that Barbee street, which was asked to be opened, is not closed.

The Street Commissioner protested against the advertising of bids for the Ninth-street bridge, as recommended by the Bridge Committee, claiming that the committee had exceeded its authority. The matter was referred to the City Attorney.

THE FIRST-STREET TANGLE.

Mr. Wirsching offered the following resolution in regard to the arbitration suits of Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Schatte:

WHEREAS, our predecessors in office entered into arbitration in good faith in the injunction case of Mrs. L. M. Bigelow and Charles Schatte, restraining the city from proceeding with the First-street viaduct; and

WHEREAS, the result of the arbitration being unsatisfactory to Mrs. Bigelow et al. (two of the arbitrators being of her own selection), proceedings were taken by her to set aside the award of said arbitration upon a technicality, which motion was granted by the court; and

WHEREAS, the importance of the erection of the First-street viaduct is of the greatest public good, both in the opening up a main thoroughfare now blocked and closed to travel, and the absolute safety of 8000 people whose lives are endangered, being subjected to crossing the steam and railroad tracks, and

WHEREAS, the Santa Fé Railroad and the Los Angeles Cable Railroad Company entered into and subscribed large sums of money to the erection of the viaduct in good faith and expecting to receive the benefits thereof, and the Cable Railroad Company is now about ready to run its cars over the First-street line, and the delay will seriously interfere with the enterprise; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Council in regular session assembled, that the City Attorney be required and is hereby instructed to proceed at once before the honorable Superior Court and request said court to give an immediate hearing, and dissolve the injunction upon its merits, and be it further

Resolved, that the Hon. S. M. White or Henry T. Gage, Esq., be employed by the Finance Committee at a stipulated fee to [illegible] in presenting the matter to the Court and [illegible] immediate action in dissolving the restricting order.

DISCUSSING IT.

Mr. Wirsching said that there is little prospect in a regular condemnation suit, such as it was proposed to bring, to settle the matter before many months; that work on the viaduct will be stopped by the injunction, and thus important work delayed. He offered the resolution as a means of getting at the matter in a speedier way.

Mr. Dunn explained what the City Attorney's office had done in the matter. He said that they had submitted the subject of damages to arbitrators, the two plaintiffs agreeing to abide by their decision; that they had, in spite of their agreement, objected to the award and brought suit, and the court had decided against the city.

Mr. Wirsching said it was necessary to do something to dissolve the injunction as soon as possible, and, while he did not mean any disrespect to the City Attorney, he wanted something done. He said the people of the East Side will hold an indignation meeting.

The resolution was amended so that the section providing for additional counsel was stricken out, and was then adopted.

STREET MATTERS.

An ordinance reported favorably by the Board of Public Works, establishing grades on Temple street was adopted, Mr. Hamilton voting against it, and Mr. McLain being absent.

The City Engineer reported upon the right of the city to the use of Ninth street, that the city had a perfect right to its use as laid out. The report was received and filed.

An ordinance fixing a stand for express wagons on Los Angeles street, between Arcadia street and the Plaza, was read and adopted.

An ordinance abandoning certain old sewers on Aliso and Sonora streets, was read and adopted.

An ordinance setting apart certain land on Castelar street for school purposes, was read and adopted. The land in question adjoins the cemetery, and is set apart for the erection of a high school building.

THOSE ELECTRIC POLES.

An ordinance providing for the immediate removal of electric railroad poles on Seventh street was read, and the rules in regard to printing were suspended.

Mr. Howland said that it seemed strange to him that this matter should come up continually in the shape it does. He read telegrams and letters showing that arrangements were in progress, and a representative of the eastern syndicate on the way to close the matter.

The ordinance passed, Mr. Bonsall changing his vote to aye, for the purpose of moving a reconsideration.

The recommendations of the Board of Public Works, as heretofore published, were adopted.

THIRD-STREET TUNNEL.

The matter of constructing a tunnel through the Third-street hill came up on the recommendation of the Board of Public Works that it shall be built, the tunnel to be paid for by the city at large.

There was considerable discussion by different members of the Council.

Mr. Bonsall heartily favored the matter, believing the people beyond the hill entitled to a tunnel, as much as the people in East Los Angeles and Boyle Heights to bridges.

The motion to adopt the recommendation of the board was decided lost by the president, there being 5 ayes and 4 nays.

Mr. Shafer appealed from the decision of the chair, and he was not sustained, ayes 3, nays 5.

Ordinances establishing the grades of Winston and Sand streets were read and adopted.

The Finance Committee recommended that Frederick McGregor be authorized to collect personal delinquent taxes of former years not paid. The matter was referred back to the Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee recommended that the matter of the bid of the Los Angeles Savings Bank for the city money be referred to the City Attorney to advise the Council what it should do in the matter. Adopted.

The claim of Mr. Morton for $100, one month's salary as sewer inspector, was allowed. It was for salary during the month he was sick, the sickness being contracted while in the discharge of his duty.

A number of bills recommended by the Finance Committee were allowed.

Recess until 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The Councilmen were a little slow in coming together for the afternoon session, and at 2 o'clock only President Frankenfield. Mr. Brown, Clerk Teed, his deputy, Street Superintendent Morford, the newspaper reporters and several citizens were in the chamber. A few minutes later Messrs. Van Duzen and Wirsching came in together, followed by Messrs. McLain and Bonsall, which completed the quorum, and business was at once proceeded with, other members coming in shortly after the roll-call was concluded.

The City Engineer presented ordinances changing and establishing the grades of Temple street, Downey avenue, Aliso street, Seventh, Alvarado, Ward, Bellevue avenue, Hobart street, Daly, State, Council, Pearl, Welcome, Vine, Eschandia, Hope, Carroll and Lake Shore avenues, and, on motion of Mr. Bonsall, the rules were suspended and the ordinances passed.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported in favor of accepting the bids of the Milwaukee Furniture Company, $385; Walton & Watchel, $322.50; and L. Lion & Son, $427.50, for furniture for the Public Library, and, on motion, the same were adopted, and the City Attorney instructed to draw up the contracts.

On motion of Mr. Bonsall, the property-owners on Ellis avenue were permitted to do their own grading under the direction of the Street Superintendent and Board of Public Works.

THE WESTLAKE BULKHEAD.

Mr. Bonsall offered a resolution empowering the Park Commissioners to have a bulkhead put in on the Seventh-street side of the Westlake Park, at a cost not to exceed $1500, the same to be done under the supervision of the City Engineer and Superintendent of Streets, and the same was referred to a special committee of Messrs. Wirsching, McLain and Frankenfield.

Mr. Shafer offered a resolution setting forth the necessity for a receiving hospital, and recommending that the present City Clerk's office be set aside for that purpose as soon as that officer's quarters can be moved to the new City Hall, and that the Building Committee be urged to push the work as rapidly as possible.

The Finance Committee also presented a resolution on the same subject, recommending that the subject be referred to a special committee of three to investigate the matter, and provide a place at once.

The Finance Committee's resolution was adopted and Messrs. Wirsching, Shafer and Summerland were appointed as such committee.

Mr. Hamilton then called up the Shafer resolution, saying that it did not conflict with the Finance Committee's recommendation, and the same was also unanimously adopted.

The report of the Zanja Committee was presented, and the various recommendations adopted.

The Bridge Committee reported recommending that safeguards be placed on the Daly street bridge at a cost of $125, which was ordered.

The official bond of Fred E. Eaton, City Engineer, for $24,000, was presented, duly approved by the City Attorney, and it was accepted. Mr. Eaton's former bond had been rejected by the Mayor, which necessitated the new bond.

The report of the Land Committee recommending that a quit-claim deed be given to Miguel Avilla for a lot on Los Angeles street, near Fifth, was presented, accompanied by a favorable report from the City Attorney, and on motion of Mr. Wirsching actisn was postponed for one week.

CITY WATER.

Mr. Wirsching moved that the water overseer be instructed not to sell any city water for any purpose except for irrigation, or where specially ordered by the Council, which was unanimously adopted. Mr. Wirsching stated that the object of his motion was to prevent the overseer from selling water to the County Hospital for flushing its sewers, and then turning the water on private lands.

The contract of Meyberg Bros. was presented, but not being in regular form, it was referred back for correction.

TURF NOTES.

REVIEW OF LAST WEEK'S IMPORTANT EVENTS.

Proctor Knott Still a Mighty Good Horse, Even Though He Was Beaten—He and Spokane to Meet Again—Baldwin's String.

Racing during the past week has been replete with surprises. First and foremost comes Spokane's victory in the Kentucky Derby, a race which furnished one of the hottest favorites seen for years. Throughout the winter months Proctor Knott, last year's Futurity winner, was on the tip of everyone's tongue, and though many attempts were made to belittle his past performances, the racing public refused to allow their confidence in Sam Bryant's great gelding to abate, and he went to the post at the prohibitory odds of one to five against. The story of the race has been already told, and whilst Spokane, after a severe struggle, carried off the honors of victory, the closeness of the contest and the wonderful time made proves Proctor Knott to be a better horse than was claimed even by his most sanguine supporters.

These two magnificent horses will meet again in the Clark Stakes, to be run tomorrow, and immense interest will be taken in the result. The distance, one and a quarter miles (a quarter less than the Derby course), will doubtless be considered by many to favor Proctor Knott, as, prior to the Derby, he, for some unaccountable reason, was put down as a non-stayer. Public favor is invariably the best guide upon which to rely, and Spokane should repeat his victory.

The Hurstbourne stakes, run over the new straight course, proved an easy victory for Fairy Queen, a brown filly by Sensation out of Ocean Queen, and as she had a large field behind her, among them the much-talked-of Finella, who turned out a rank impostor, and as, moreover, the time—1:01—equals the 2-year-old record for the distance made by Princess Bowling, it will in all probability be some time before she meets her conqueror.

The 3-year-old colt Heron, of whom great things were expected, ran very badly at Nashville last Saturday, and it would be well for speculators to be careful how they plunge on last year's 2-year-olds, as some of them are very backward, and others do not fulfill their early promise.

Since last week's review on sports, Exile, who was strongly recommended as a dangerous candidate for the Brooklyn handicap, has become much firmer in the betting, and now the reduced price of ten to one is being laid against him. Exile on his last year's running has a chance second to none for the big race to be run on Wednesday. Hanover is undoubtedly a great horse, and his owners have wonderful faith in his ability to win. He is a very consistent performer, and, with 122 pounds to carry, he will hold the majority of the field safe. He is handicapped to give Terra Cotta but two pounds and on the running in last year's Suburban he ought to be able to do so with ease. Prince Royal, who last year was at the top of the tree, among the 3-year-olds, is by no means leniently handicapped with 120 pounds on his back, yet in all probability the finish will be confined to these four horses. It is a difficult thing to predict the winner of a big handicap so early in the season, but the sporting editor believes that they will finish as follows: Elite first, Prince Royal second, Hanover third.

The ruling off of Jockey McLaughlin for his suspicious riding on Terra Cotta, when the latter was admittedly pulled in order to allow his stable companion, Santalene, to win, and his subsequent reinstatement by the judges, who added an eulogium as to his reputation for integrity, seems very funny to any racing man, who is unacquainted with the manner in which many American meetings are managed. McLaughlin is a great favorite with the racing public, but the Chicago stable which owns Terra Cotta, are not regarded with that child-like confidence which is bestowed upon a man who races for honor only. At the track Terra Cotta and Santalene were sold as a stable, but throughout the country, in hundreds of poolrooms, they were listed separately upon the boards, Terra Cotta being a hot favorite at 2 to 1 on, whilst Santalene figured at the healthy odds of 5 to 1 against. If the Chicago stable wished to save Terra Cotta from any penalties which would follow a victory, all they had to do was to make a declaration to win with Santalene. This they did not do, and a very fine opportunity was given of making a great coup on Santalene at the expense of a confiding public who would naturally make their investments on what they knew to be the best horse. In the next case of this kind it is to be hoped, for the true interests of racing, that explanations will not be so easily allowed.

F. B. Harper, who has announced his intention of allowing his mare Valuable to make an attempt to lower her sire's record for the mile, will probably defer the trial for some little time, as on Friday last she could not do better than make a dead heat with Benedict over a six-furlong course at Louisville, in the moderate time of 1:15.

Unless some one of the Santa Anita 2-year-olds turns out to be an angel in disguise, in the matter of speed, it is very probable that E. J. Baldwin will have a far from successful season. His string has already arrived on the scene of action, and if all the glowing accounts which appear in the eastern papers as to the merits and condition of his horses were true, they would doubtless win a small fortune in stakes and purses for their fortunate owner. California horsemen, however, (and no State in the Union finds stancher supporters of home-bred stock) have had a good opportunity of testing the merits of the Santa Anita stable, and they know perfectly well that its representatives are this season far below the average. Aside from the youngsters, there is not a horse in the whole string, apart from Volante, capable of winning a selling race at Guttenberg, and the great Volante himself, despite the assertions to the contrary, is but the ghost of his former self. Volante has been a wonderful performer, but a steam engine even gets rusty with time, and it would have been better had the pride of California been retired permanently to the stud.

California, however, will not be left without worthy representatives on the eastern tracks, as Theodore Winter's string has already arrived at Chicago. The king of the party is the 3-year-old colt, The Czar, by Norfolk-Marian—a full brother to the Emperor of Norfolk. The Czar is entered for the American Derby, and Proctor Knott and Spokane will meet in him a foeman worthy of their steel. Joe Courtney will also do yeoman service for his owner, as he was last winter but little inferior to the Pacific Coast Derby winner. El Rio Rey, a 2-year-old, by Norfolk-Marian, and a half brother to The Czar, has never yet appeared in public, but he has showed his trainer some wonderful trials in private, and will bear watching.

Since writing, the news comes to hand that Theodore Winters's magnificent 3-year-old colt, The Czar, has succumbed to an attack of pneumonia, caught on his journey to the East.

The Czar was undoubtedly the best of his year amongst the California thoroughbreds, and his loss is a very severe one for Mr. Winters. The big sum of $20,000 was offered and refused for the brother of the Emperor of Norfolk, and great expectations had been formed of him. He was a prominent favorite for the American Derby.

DUG UP.

The First Move to Obliterate "Nigger" Alley.

A good deal of excitement was created yesterday morning, when a gang of men and teams went to work digging up old "Nigger" alley. Several hundred people gathered around the laborers, and during the entire forenoon they kept up a fire of questions which were not answered by the men. Hearing of the affair, a TIMES reporter visited the scene and found about 30 men excavating. The hole is about 120x150 feet back from what was "Nigger" alley, and fronting on Los Angeles street, where some of the old Chinese shandies used to stand. None of the men seemed to know what the hole is for, and as they were dumping the dirt into Los Angeles street, it was very plain that they were not working for the city.

Further investigation developed the fact that Mrs. Bigelow, who failed in her scheme to close up Los Angeles street, has made up her mind to put up a fine brick building, facing on the New Los Angeles street, which will be occupied by commission merchants. The building will be a large, two-story block, and will be the first of a number of fine buildings that are to be erected around the Plaza during the next 12 months. Property-holders in that section of the city have made up their minds to improve as rapidly as possible for the reason that the city is moving south at a very rapid rate, and they know that something must be done to hold business in the district north of First street.

THE MAILS.

A Change That Follows the New Santa Fe Schedule.

The change of time on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé Railroad, which took place last Sunday, has caused considerable trouble to the business men of this city, for the reason that the eastern mail all comes to this city over that road, and under that schedule will not reach the postoffice until nearly 5 p.m. and it will require over an hour to distribute the letters for the carriers, making it an impossibility to deliver the mail by carrier the same evening it is received.

Postmaster Preuss, in order to accommodate the business men, has detailed two men to go to The Needles every day and distribute all the Los Angeles city mail, so that the minute the letters reach the postoffice the carriers will only have to route them, and start on their deliveries, leaving the office at 5:15 p.m. each evening with the entire eastern mail.

By this system of delivery business men will be enabled to answer all eastern letters in time for the morning mail, which leaves the next morning at 8 o'clock.

Carriers' deliveries in business districts after May 13th will be at 8 and 10:30 a.m., 1:30, 3:30, and 5:15 p.m.

A GOOD WORK.

The Morris Vineyard Reading-room.

The annual meeting of the Morris Vineyard W.C.T.U. will be held in the Presbyterian Church, corner of Hill and Pine streets, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A special feature of this meeting will be the yearly report from the free reading-room.

The women of this union have, under many disadvantages, kept this room open near Washington Gardens for more than a year.

Many boys and men find here a place where they can spend their evenings profitably, there being none other open for them except the saloons.

The good such a resort does cannot be estimated, and it reflects great credit upon this part of the city that such an undertaking is so successfully carried forward.

The ladies who have the matter in hand feel sure that if this subject is properly presented to the wealthy residents of the southern part of the city they will not allow its maintenance to be a burden upon a few.

IRVING BISHOP, the mind-reader, and a remarkable man, died yesterday in Washington of hysterical catalepsy.

THE ordinance providing for the removal of electric railroad poles on Seventh street was again postponed for a week yesterday.

A GREAT many necessary public improvements in Los Angeles are awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court on the new charter. The sooner that decision is filed the better for all concerned.

THE City Engineer having reported that the city has the right to use the approaches to the Ninth-street bridge, there would seem to be no reason why that improvement should not at once be completed.

CARTER HARRISON, the brother of the President, who has been appointed United States Marshal in Tennessee, was a lieutenant of infantry in an Ohio regiment during the war and a brave soldier.

THE Express gets badly mixed whenever it tackles the bug question. It has an article headed "The Vine Pest," which, when read, is found to be about our old friend icerya purchasi and its parasite.

NEW YORKERS are beginning to count up the gains by the centennial show after the most aporoved Yankee fashion. It is estimated that visitors left some $25,000,000 in the metropolis during the festival.

MISS DELANO, a Washington clerk in the Patent Office, who was removed because she said President Cleveland was a "pig," has been reinstated. Now the question is, does President Harrison indorse the opinion expressed by Miss Delano?

THE next rush of emigration will be in the direction of the Sioux reservation, in Dakota. Settlers are already beginning to gather on the borders of the reservation, and when it is opened the Oklahoma rush is likely to be repeated, but on a larger scale.

ONE of the best pieces of news which California has received for many a day is the announcement that the Supreme Court of the United States has affirmed the validity of the law excluding Chinese laborers, known as the Scott Exclusion Act. Now let the law be strictly administered.

SECRETARY ENDICOTT'S precedent of assigning a military attaché to each of our embassies to the great powers of Europe is reported to have been followed by Secretary Proctor. The plan seems to be a good one, as at small expense we can be kept thoroughly informed concerning military improvements, from which we may profit.

GEORGE WASHINGTON was one of the few distinguished Americans whom Ohio has not been able to claim as her own. A paper of that State has, however, discovered that George preëmpted a claim in Ohio, and thinks there is no doubt that he would have become a citizen of Ohio had his days not been cut short.

ONCE more a plot to kill the Czar has been unearthed—this time on the part of military officials. Bombs were found, and a large number of conspirators have been arrested. There would seem to be a special fate which watches over the Autocrat of All the Russias, but he can scarcely hope always to escape such continued and determined plots against his life.

THE Mayor and the chairman of the Finance Committee of Chicago have reported to the Council that certain banks are prepared to pay 2½ per cent. interest on the city treasury balances placed with them. The placing of the funds in the banks at interest, instead of in the hands of the City Treasurer, is expected to save the city $75,000 a year, which now apparently goes to the Treasurer. That official has still, however, the neat sum of $15,000 a year.

TO REFORM ELECTIONS.

Massachusetts is going to try to pass a bill to secure the publicity of political receipts and expenditures at elections. The purpose aimed at in the bill is an excellent one. There is no legitimate occasion for the mystery which now surrounds the collection and disbursement of funds for political purposes. The publicity of accounts may not check all improper expenditures, but it will do a good deal in that direction.

The bill under consideration requires all political committees and clubs, before any member of them receives or disburses any funds for campaign purposes, to choose a treasurer. To this officer a detailed report of any receipts and expenditures made by individual members must be made; and by him there is to be filed, within twenty days after an election, a detailed account of all receipts and disbursements of the organization, including those made by individual members. Moreover, any person elected a member of Congress or to any State office is required, within ten days after the election, to file with the Secretary of the Commonwealth "a detailed statement of all moneys contributed, disbursed or expended by him in attempting to secure, or in any manner in connection with, his nomination or election to such office, provided that all such moneys shall exceed in the aggregate $100.

The most interesting section of the bill is the fourth, which defines an "illegal expenditure" thus:

"Any expenditure of money made to influence or affect the action of a caucus or convention, or the result of an election, or the vote or action of any person at a caucus or convention or in an election, shall be deemed to be an illegal expenditure, unless made for the purpose of circulating printed and written matter, or of holding public meetings, caucuses, or conventions, or of maintaining political headquarters, or for other things reasonably incidental to such purposes."

AN OBSTRUCTIONIST.

After a big period of weary waiting, during which time the street has been practically closed, work on the First-street viaduct has progressed considerably, and residents on that street and in Boyle Heights have been congratulating themselves on seeing daylight through the protracted gloom. When work commenced on the viaduct, Mrs. L. M. Bigelow, who owns property there, in conjunction with Charles Schatte, brought an injunction suit against the city, restraining it from proceeding with the work. It was then agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. Two of the arbitrators were chosen by Mrs. Bigelow. They made their decision a few days ago, awarding substantial damages, but the result of the arbitration being unsatisfactory to Mrs. Bigelow, she took legal proceedings to set aside the award upon a technicality, which motion was granted by the Court, and work on this most important and vital improvement is now blocked, while the cable railroad is prevented from running over to the East Side, as it will be ready to do as soon as the bridge is finished. The Council yesterday very properly ordered the City Attorney to commence a condemnation suit at once in this case, but, even at the best, it must take some time, during which progress on the work will have to cease.

Mrs. Bigelow appears to be something of a chronic obstructionist. It was she who, for so long a period, blocked the opening of Los Angeles street. Either the city must stand still, or Mrs. Bigelow will have to move on. The city is not going to stand still.

IT is proposed to select some forty representative workingmen from the labor organizations of Ohio, Michigan and Missouri, and possibly some women, to make a trip to the Paris Exposition and report on their various trades. The delegation will be accompanied by artists and correspondents, and an agent to pay all expenses. All the leading manufacturing points of Europe will be visited, as well as Paris. The letters of correspondents and reports of each delegate will be published in a syndicate of papers, and afterward in book form. Such an enterprise ought to result in much good.

MAJ. GEORGE B. DAVIS, Judge-Advocate, who recently acted as judge-advocate of the Lydecker and Armes courts martial, has been selected by Secretary Proctor as the army officer at the head of the commission provided for in the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill to continue the publication of the records of the war of the rebellion. There will be two others to act with him, civilian experts, who have not yet been selected.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—The constant attendance at the performances of the "Bostonians" last week had its effect upon the audience of first-nighters, which would otherwise have been more numerously gathered to welcome Mr. Sothern in his now famous impersonation of "Lord Chumley." The house was fairly well filled, but though many familiar faces were there, it was evident that many more were taking a temporary rest. After the successful result of last night's performance, however, it is hardly to be doubted that crowded houses will be the rule for the remainder of the week.

Lord Chumley is a modern comedy in which the incidents have a strong melodramatic flavor, and the characters are made up of a number of well-worn types grouped together without any special skill, acted in the conventional way and leading up to the expected and foregone conclusion. There is the elderly, stout, obtrusive old gentleman, with a loud voice, a broad smile and a repertory of ungrammatical phrases, vulgar and objectionable, but the father of the lady-like heroine, and of the aristocratic young son whose peccadilloes furnish the motive power to the action of the play. The familiar face of C. B. Bishop was in the right place as the old gentleman. His daughter, taken by Belle Archer, looked very pretty but acted with a coldness somewhat in excess of the requirements of the part. Mr. Scott as the erring son seemed to have a penchant for presenting his back view to the audience; other than this he had nothing much to do but to express contrition for his naughtiness. Herbert Archer carried the weight of the heavy villain in the shape of a Frenchman with a dubious accent, but otherwise well personated. The low comedy parts are overdone and entirely too boisterous to be either natural or effective. Rowland Buckstone, also the son of a famous father, has a part in this element of the play, but it gives him no chance to display any talent he may have.

The comedy is constructed for the purpose of exhibiting "Lord Chumley," who is the exception to the conventionality of the characters which revolve around him. Not but what his lordship is conventional to the last degree—and he represents a type which is familiar enough to the stage—but the actor who can present him to the public, as Mr. Sothern does, in a light strong enough to bring out all his peculiarities and yet without exaggeration or caricature, is a rara avis indeed. While he is understood as not desiring to be merely a copy of his celebrated father, it is evident that Mr. Sothern inherits many of the little mannerisms which made his father's performances piquant and interesting. At the same time he has a delicacy of style and quiet, easy finish to his acting which are quite engaging, and are all his own. The type of character he represents must be taken largely on trust, but the delineation is so amusing in its humor and varied eccentricities that one is willing to accept it as it is presented, and believe in the existence of just such soft-hearted, soft-headed young swells, who turn out to be, in the language of "Monsieur Le Sage," not such damfools as they look."

The piece was a complete success last night, the audience being sufficiently enthusiastic to demand the raising of the curtain twice at the end of each act. It will be repeated tonight.

THE LOS ANGELES.—The Harry Williams Specialty Company opened this week's engagement to a packed house last night. The audience was made up almost exclusively of sporting men and admirers of the manly art, who were drawn together for the purpose of witnessing a scientific set-to between Jack Dempsey, the "Nonpareil," and his trainer, Denny Costigan, which was hardly up to expectation, as the pugs gave only three short rounds, and neither of them could give a fair exhibition of his skill in so short a time. The variety performance was up to the average, with the exception of the Austin sisters, who are not in training, as they have been taking a rest in this city during the past two weeks and have not had an opportunity to practice. They do a very pretty trapeze act, and Mlle. Aimee "the human fly," performs an act which is quite thrilling. She travels 50 feet, head downward, from a swinging ceiling which is suspended 30 feet from the netting. The performance closes with a farce entitled Germany vs. Ireland. The same bill will be given this evening and during the week.

PROF. AREVALO.—A grand benefit was given Prof. M. S. Arévalo at Turnverein Hall last night. An excellent vocal and instrumental programme was carried out to the satisfaction of a fair audience.

HOMELESS AND DESPERATE.

A Fellow Who Persisted in Sleeping in a Barn.

Last night at 9:30 o'clock Officer Joe del Valle brought to the police station a half-witted Englishman, who was booked as Charles Ibbert, and locked up on a charge of "threats." Ibbert was employed some weeks ago by a family at the corner of Figueroa street and Walnut drive to do a day or two's work, and when he got through with the job he asked to be allowed to stay about the place and do such as was required of him for his board and lodging. This arrangement kept up until Sunday, when the owner of the premises told him that he would have to get another place. This seemed to anger the man, and he refused to leave, saying that if he was turned off he would blow up the house with dynamite. As he acted rather queerly, the people got alarmed, and, as he persisted in stopping in the barn Sunday night, after he had been asked to leave, the proprietor of the house yesterday afternoon complained [illegible] locked up. Capt. Harris said that he could not do this until some overt act was committed, but told him to telephone the police station if Ibbert came around again, when he would send an officer out to look after him. The gentleman then left the station, and last evening about 6:30 o'clock a message was received, saying that Ibbert was hanging about the premises, and making threats about blowing up the place. Officer Del Valle was sent out, and when he arrived he found the household in a state of siege. The head of the family was armed with a double-barreled shotgun, and his wife and 17-year-old daughter were also provided with shooting-irons. The gentleman said that Ibbert had been around the place, and said he was going to sleep in the barn whether he wanted him to or not, and that if he persisted in the attempt he would convert him into a lead mine. He said that he had been annoyed as much as he proposed to stand, and if the officer did not take the man away he would be forced to enforce the law himself. Ibbert was not in sight at the time, but he came back after awhile, still threatening vengeance when Del Valle telephoned Justice Austin, who told him to take the man and lock him up, which was done.

When he arrived at the police station Ibbert had a piece of rope and a couple of Bibles, and said he did not care whether he lived or died. He will probably be committed to the County Jail until he can be examined as to his sanity.

A Son of Emery Storrs Arrested for Blackmailing.

Villard's Latest Schemes for Controlling Railway Property in Oregon Headed Off by an Injunction--Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The investigation of the Insane Asylum begun in the County Court this morning. The testimony showed 1000 inmates, with room for only 600, and that the attendance is insufficient and the food bad.

Evidence was introduced to the effect that patients were fed on pigs' heads for an entire year, with potatoes for vegetables once a week. There was no service, and the patients fought for possession of the potatoes, with the result that the weak got none, and that over fifty of the inmates became afflicted with scurvy.

One of the medical staff testified that in one ward there are 28 patients, with only nine rooms, or an average of three in each room. It was absolutely necessary to have only one or two in some of the rooms, so that four persons were crowded into others. These rooms are 5½ by 10 feet in size. The beds are two and one-half feet wide, but in many cases two patients are forced to sleep in them. Under such circumstances, with insufficient attendance, patients would climb over the cots and fight, and the medical attendants were frequently called six or eight times in a single night to go to patients who were attempting to commit murder or suicide. This state of affairs was reported to members of the county board again and again, but nothing was done to remedy it.

Much other revolting testimony was brought in.

The Board of County Commissioners this afternoon passed a resolution naming a committee of prominent citizens to recommend a suitable person to succeed the present superintendent, Dr. Kiernan, whose management has been so severely commented upon recently.

HEADED OFF.

An Injunction Blocks Villard's Latest Schemes.

NEW YORK, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] An injunction was today issued by Judge Barrett in the Supreme Court, on the application of Elijah Smith and Edward R. Bell, stockholders of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, restraining, until further hearing, the proposed issue of new stock by the Oregon and Transcontinental Company and also the disposal by that company of its holdings of Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's shares. The injunction is directed against the Oregon and Transcontinental, Henry Villard, Charles L. Colby, Colgate Hoit, William L. Bull, C. A. Spofford, Charles M. Hanson, Charles H. Prescott, Joseph Simon, A. G. Fulton, T. Harris Bartlett, M. G. Holland and A. D. Charleton.

The authorized capital stock of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company is $50,000,000. The amount heretofore issued is $40,000,000. On Saturday last telegrams from several parties in Portland, Or., brought the announcement that on Friday the board of directors of the Oregon and Transcontinental, pursuant to telegraphic instructions from Villard, had passed resolutions directing that the remaining $10,000,000 of authorized capital stock be issued at once; that the company should guarantee dividends at 6 per cent. upon this $10,000,000, and the $12,000,000 Oregon Railway and Navigation stock held by the Oregon and Transcontinental should be hypothecated to secure the payment of dividends which were to be guaranteed on the new issue. The executive committee was authorized to dispose of the new issue, and to charge a commission or rebate for its services in so doing.

Seven directors only out of 17 were present at the meeting, three being a quorum under the by-laws. Five directors, all of whom are employés of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, voted for and passed the resolutions. The two other directors present voted against the resolutions.

The plaintiffs, who furnish the foregoing information, believe that the Oregon and Transcontinental has no authority in law to give such preferred right to any portion of its stock. It is asserted that Villard's purpose was to place the stock where he could control its proxies and the election on the third Monday in June, and also with the money thus obtained to increase the amount of Northern Pacific shares now held by the Oregon Transcontinental, to enable him by that means to control the next Northern Pacific election.

THE BICYCLERS.

Opening of the Great Tournament at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The great bicyle tournament opened today at the Exposition building, the main event being a six-days' race for professionals, eight hours a day. Morgan of England, Robert Nelson of Boston and Ralph Temple of Chicago.

At the end of the first eight hours tonight Reading, Knapp, Prince and Morgan were exactly even for the first place, with 123 miles and 5 laps to their credit. Shock had 122 miles, Nelson 38 miles and 1 lap, Temple 47 miles and 7 laps. The two latter have withdrawn.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Stranger in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Times says: Theophilo Richeron, a Frenchman, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Lewiston, Idaho, and in company with Robert Schweiser, took rooms at Kuhn's Hotel. Last evening Schweiser went to take a bath, and supposed Richeron was about to do the same. When he returned, Richeron was not in. Every effort to find him has failed. What has become of him is a mystery. He had with him certificates of deposit for $6000 and $500 cash, besides a watch and chain and other articles of jewelry.

Richeron could not speak English. He is about 60 years old, of medium height, with black beard, grayish black hair and weighs about 190 pounds. He wore black clothes.

THE TRANSCONTINENTALS.

Close of the Meeting at St. Louis—Little Accomplished.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Transcontinental Association concluded its labors here this afternoon. The committee to which was referred the Puget Sound rates on Saturday last reported today that they were unable to agree on a settlement of the matter, and the question will be taken up by the association at the meeting to be held at Tacoma, July 20th.

The association passed resolutions to continue negotiations with the trunk lines for arranging a percentage plan of divisions on east-bound traffic. They also fixed the rate for the triennial conclave of Knights Templar, which is to be held at Washington, at $80 per round trip from California to the Missouri River, the through rate to be based on rates east of that river.

J. S. Leeds has tendered his resignation as chairman of the association, which was accepted, and James Smith, general agent of the association at New York, will be transferred to the headquarters here to take charge of affairs, pending the election of a chairman to take his place.

In explanation of this it will be officially announced tomorrow that the resignation of W. H. Newman, third vice-president and general traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific, which has been several times reported, has been accepted, to take effect June 1st, that Mr. Leeds has been appointed traffic manager of the system and that the office of third vice-president will be abolished.

The association adjourned to meet again at Tacoma, Wash., July 20th.

COPPER'S COLLAPSE.

NO TERMS REACHED AT THE CONFERENCE IN PARIS.

American Operators Return in Disgust and Threaten to Throw Their Copper on the Market at Any Price.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] At the steamship dock today many prominent copper operators from this city and Boston were impatiently awaiting the arrival of the Cunarder Servia for definite intelligence of the result of the European conference between the American mine representatives and the defunct French syndicate.

Mr. Haggin, who is the sole owner of the Anaconda mine, looked decidedly savage when questioned about the result of his journey abroad. He said with emphasis that his trip had been productive of no good.

"We were unable," said Mr. Haggin, "to come to any agreement, and have come back to throw our metal on the market for what it will bring." He positively refused to say anything further.

Col. Livermore, who accompanied Mr. Haggin and other American mine representatives abroad, was inclined to be more communicative. The report, Livermore said, that the Americans found the Frenchmen reluctant to meet the mine owner half way in settling the difficulty was entirely without foundation. The Frenchmen seemed always ready and willing to enter into any agreement to prevent a panic. The French banks which held the copper even now have entire confidence in the metal as security. Col. Livermore gave an outline of the terms offered by the American proposition, that the banks should take a certain number of years in which to market their copper; (the number of years mentioned occasioned no dispute); that the mines should reduce the production of last year, which it was deemed was far in excess of the world's wants, until the bank's metal could be disposed of; that there should be a minimum price, about 24½ per ton, an equivalent of 13 cents per pound, for lake copper, [illegible] metal to be sold by banks and mines.

"This figure," said he, "was thought to be low enough to meet the consumption and not so low as to ruin the mines. After our terms, as agreed upon, were gone over in a general way, the views of the foreign representatives present were laid before the lawyer representing the bank directors and foreigners interested. The representative of the Rio Tinto mine, I neglected to say, was not exactly satisfied with our proposition. He demanded that the American mine owners should agree to restrict the export of copper. Of course we refused to entertain such an idea. We insisted upon equal terms. Our terms were as I have stated them. We did not ask an immediate reply. We were in no hurry, and came away without coming to any definite conclusion."

"It would seem from what Haggin has said this noon," was suggested, "that his mine at least will begin to throw its product on the market for whatever it will bring."

"Well," the Colonel replied, "we may have all come home prepared to do it, but I don't think we will. I won't deny that since our return some modifications have been made in our original proposition, and just now a settlement is not a hopeless question."

During the afternoon Col. Livermore's rooms at the Brunswick were filled with representatives of copper dealers, and a lengthy conference was held, at which, it is stated, several cablegrams which reached New York soon after the Servia left Liverpool were carefully considered.

It Brings Cold Comfort to T. J. Cuddy.

The Supreme Court Says His Sentence Was All Right.

A Decision Against the Claims of Sarah Althea.

The Long-litigated Myra Clark Gaines Case Settled by a Ruling from the Supreme Court.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Court today sustained the action of District Judge Ross, at Los Angeles, in sentencing Thomas J. Cuddy and Alexandro Savin to imprisonment for contempt of court.

The contempt consisted of alleged attempts to bribe a witness and juror in the hall-way of the courthouse building, but outside the courtroom itself. The principal contention for the sentenced man was that the contempt powers of the court did not extend outside the building.

The Court holds that misbehavior anywhere within a place set apart by law for the holding of a court is contempt of court. The opinion is by Justice Harlan.

THE NOTED GAINES CASE.

A Final Decision in the Long Litigation.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Court today, in an opinion by Justice Bradley, awarded the executors of the will of Myra Clark Gaines the sum of $567,000 against the city of New Orleans for the use of property sold by the city, but recovered by Mrs. Gaines after long litigation. The judgment of the lower court, awarding the executors $1,300,000 for the use of unimproved property sold by the city, was not concurred in.

The case has probably been the most interesting, hardest contested and most prolonged known to judicial history in this country. The first suit in the case was brought by Mrs. Gaines, then the wife of Gen. Whitney, in 1834, and since that time decision has followed decision in regard to it. The first suit sought to recover what was known as the Everiste Blanc tract in New Orleans. Blanc bought the tract for about $4500 from the executors of Gen. Daniel Clark, a prominent citizen of New Orleans. He sold it and some other land to the city of New Orleans. The grounds on which Mrs. Gaines set up her claim were that she was the child of Gen. Clark by a secret marriage between him and Zulime Carriere, and that Gen. Clark had left a later will than the one under which the property was sold. This secret marriage formed the axis on which the litigation revolved, and the case was fought with bitterness by both sides.

It was not until a few years before the war that Mrs. Gaines was finally declared to be the legitimate child as well as the lawful heir of Gen. Clark. Even then the city of New Orleans did not surrender, and after the war Mrs. Gaines was compelled to bring suits for damages.

In 1881 the Circuit Court of the United States for the Louisiana district gave judgment in her favor for $1,925,667, and this is on an appeal from this judgment that the case was decided. The present case it is generally conceded exhausts all resources of the law and is regarded as a final settlement of the litigation.

Mrs. Gaines, fighting to the very last for her rights, is dead, and so it is believed are all her immediate relatives except her daughter-in-law, Hattie L. Whitney, whose name as administratrix of the estate of Mrs. Gaines the case stands on the court docket.

SHARON LITIGATION.

The Supreme Court Rules Against Terry's Appeals.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Supreme Court today affirmed the judgment of the United States Circuit Court for the Northern District of California in the case of David S. Terry, appellant, vs. F. W. Sharon, executor, etc. This is the suit brought by Sarah Althea Hill Terry.

The Court holds that in the original case the citizenship of the parties being in different States and the object of the suit, the cancellation of a forged instrument, being one of the oldest heads of equity jurisdiction, the case presented was one of prima facie jurisdiction, and if there were any errors in the original decision they must be presented on appeal from a decree in that case, and cannot be considered in this case, which is an appeal from a decision reviewing the action in the name of the executor of the deceased Sharon, and that the objections urged to that decree of revivor are frivolous. The opinion is by Justice Miller.

The Samoan Conference Still Undecided as to the Fate of King Mataafaa--Other News From Abroad.

PANAMA, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Never in its history has the isthmus presented the scene it offers today. Thousands of people are out of work; the busy centers of activity along the canal are abandoned; many hundreds of houses are deserted by their former occupants; the smaller villages are almost uninhabited.

Interior papers have been publishing extensive articles respecting the probability of assistance being obtained in the United States for the completion of the canal, and they are almost unanimous in expressing the opinion that "it is absolutely requisite not to withdraw from the United States, but rather to take advantage of the immense power and gigantic influence of that Nation to conclude, with its assistance, the perforation of the isthmus to trade and to advance under its shadow, and always to remember that the road for the future advancement of Spanish America does not lie in the direction of Europe but in the direction of the stars of the North."

GERMAN STRIKERS.

More Miners Go Out—Riots Suppressed by Troops.

BERLIN, May 13.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The strike at Dortmund is spreading. The strikers are assembling at the pits, parading the streets and menacing employés at the waterworks which supply the district. The pitworkers at Margaretha have expressed willingness to resume work on the condition that they be protected from the strikers.

A number of strikers at Castrep attempted to make a riotous demonstration, and were charged upon and dispersed by dragoons. There was random firing between the strikers and military at that place last night.

At Luenen taverns have been closed.

The Strike Committee of the Dortmund miners issued a manifesto, in which they declare that the strikers will not resume work until all demands are conceded.

The miners in Essen district have struck. This increases the total of men who have quit work to 90,000.

Emperor William will receive a deputation of striking miners from Westphalia tomorrow.

Strikers today tried to prevent the opening of the Aitebase and Sprokhoevel pits. Hussars dispersed them and made many arrests. A man named Hennes whose brother was killed in the riot at Schleswig, suddenly became insane today, and killed a friend named Bleichart with a hatchet.

The colliers at Waldernburg Silesia, have gone on a strike.

Sixty striking miners of the Prince Regent's colliery at Broheim decided to resume work today, but were prevented from doing so by their fellow-workmen who drove them away from the pits with shovels and curses. The military were summoned and on their arrival a sharp fight took place between the soldiers and strikers, the latter being finally dispersed.

BOOKMAKERS TAKEN TO TASK.

President Clark of the Louisville Jockey Club today telegraphed President Palmer of the Bookmakers' Association to appear here tomorrow and show cause why the association should not be ruled off for endeavoring to prevent bookmakers from going on at the track and for other causes. This is understood to mean that Col. Clark finds himself in a sufficiently strong position to force the fighting and bring the bookmakers to terms. If the association is ruled off here it will, of course, be driven from all tracks under control of the turf congress.

THE COLT HERON INJURED.

J. W. Guest's bay colt Heron sustained a probably permanent injury while en route to Louisville last night. He broke loose in the car and kicked himself in a frightful manner. Before leaving Nashville Guest refused $12,500 for the colt.

Death of Czar.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa), May 13.—Czar, the phenomenal 3-year-old running colt, owned by Theodore Winters of California, and valued at $25,000, died of pneumonia at Union Park, in this city, this morning. He was the winner of the California Derby.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

A Young Widow Who Is Out and Injured.

Some queer stories are going the rounds in which the name of Harry Elliott and a young widow named Mrs. Martin are the principals. It seems that about a year ago Elliott, who was quite a swell, came to this city and became acquainted with Mrs. Martin. He gained the confiding young widow's affections to the tune of $450, and when the payday arrived he put her off, and kept doing so until the lady became suspicious and employed Detective Marsh to shadow him. She told the detective that Elliott obtained the money on the pretext of opening a cigar store, and she wanted Marsh to shadow him and learn what he was doing. The detective soon discovered that Elliott had fooled his fair friend, and he so informed her, and wanted her to have him arrested. She consented to have Marsh call on him, but she did not want to prosecute a case against him. Elliott promised to pay the money on that same evening, but instead of doing so he took the 10:30 train for the north, and the young widow is out just $450. She will not consent to his arrest, so the chances are that the matter will be dropped.

A Hen Fight.

Mrs. Mary Forbes, an elderly German woman, was arrested at her home on Center street, yesterday morning, on a warrant charging her with battery. Mrs. Forbes was brought to the police station, where she deposited $100 cash bail, and was released. In the afternoon she was brought before Justice Stanton and fined $5. The trouble is the result of a neighborhood row. Some time ago a woman tore down Mrs. Forbes's fence, and there was a fight over it, and yesterday morning the woman came to her house, armed with a rock, for the purpose of getting even with Mrs. Forbes. She applied an approbriaus epithet to her, when Mrs. Forbes proceeded to pull her hair out and do her up generally, and when she got through with her the neighbor had her arrested.

A Suit for Salvage.

A suit in admiralty was on trial before Judge Ross of the United States Court yesterday. It was the suit of the Wilmington Transportation Company vs. the steamship Old Kensington. It will be remembered that the ship caught fire not long since, and the transportation company saved her and part of the cargo. The company brings suit for $20,000 salvage. A number of witnesses were examined yesterday, and the case will be continued today.

PACIFIC COAST.

Wind Causes a Disaster at Tacoma.

A Tall House Blown Down—Several Men Killed.

Opening of the New California Theater in San Francisco.

Death of One of the Soldiers Wounded in Maj. Wham's Fight With Arizona Robbers—Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

TACOMA (Wash.), May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] A windstorm struck this city shortly before 6 o'clock this evening, and two frame houses in course of construction were blown down. One of them was four stories high, and on it were a dozen workmen, eight of whom were buried in the ruins, and four are known to be killed. The names of those killed are:

Thomas C. Bell of Nova Scotia, unmarried.

Frank M. McConnell, late of Lawrence, Kan., where he leaves a wife and two children.

Stanislaus Gerias of Duluth, Minn., unmarried.

Walter Bates, late of Lincoln, Neb.

W. H. Snell, Prosecuting Attorney-elect, one of the owners of the building, was in the fourth story when it fell, and is dangerously injured.

W. A. Mackey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was badly injured.

One man, name unknown, is still missing. The building was top heavy, a great many partitions for lodging rooms being put in the upper floor while the lower floor was weakened by the braces being removed preparatory to laying the floors.

THE CHINESE DECISION.

Satisfaction at San Francisco—What Cousul Bee Says.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] In general there was a feeling of satisfaction manifested today among residents of this city on receipt of the news that the Supreme Court of the United States had upheld the constitutionality of the Scott Exclusion Act. No enthusiasm was displayed, however.

Chinese Consul Bee states that the Chinese will respect the decision, but it is hard to make them understand that a Government can sign and issue a certificate to return to this country and then annul it.

THE TREASURE ROBBERY.

Death of One of the Wounded Soldiers—The Pursuit.

TUCSON (Ariz.), May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] A Fort Thomas special to the Star says that one of the soldiers, wounded in the fight between Paymaster Wham's party and bandits, has died. Three others are in a critical condition. Soldiers and Indians are out searching for the robbers, and the troops in New Mexico are hastening to intercept them, if they enter that Territory.

It is believed, however, that they will make an endeavor to escape into Sonora.

Gov. Wolfley has offered a reward of $500 for their arrest and conviction.

A THEATRICAL PALACE.

Opening of the New California Theater at 'Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The New California Theater, erected on the site of the former theater of that name, was formally opened tonight by Booth and Barrett in Othello. The opening was made a society event, social circles of the city being present almost en masse.

Booth and Barrett's reception was most hearty. There were, however, no formal speeches made by them or the builders or the lessees of the theater. The interior of the theater is undoubtedly the handsomest in the city.

SHORT, THE CARVER.

Held to Answer for Assault with a Deadly Weapon.

The preliminary examination of Peter Short, the tailor, who stabbed C. F. Munson in the neck in a drunken row in the Carleton saloon several nights ago, was had before Justice Stanton yesterday afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock. Both Munson and Short were in court, looking the worse for the encounter, although Short's face has almost healed up. Munson still has to carry his head on one side, but his wound is healing nicely, and there is no further danger. The People were represented by Assistant District Attorney Hardesty, and the defendant by C. C. Stephens, Esq. The first step in the proceedings was the changing of the complaint from assault to murder to assault with a deadly weapon, when the taking of testimony was proceeded with. C. F. Munson, C. A. Canfield, L. P. Sweeney, M. Rosenthal and E. A. Wescott were examined for the prosecution, and T. B. Philbin and Peter Short for the defense, N. R. Bunker being called in rebuttal. From the evidence, it appeared that all the parties had been drinking, and the fight grew out of some trouble about a debt of $90 which Short claimed that Munson owed him. Philbin also took a prominent part in getting the men together. The knife with which the cutting was done was also produced and fully identified.

A night session was also held, at which the taking of testimony was concluded, as well as the arguments of counsel. During the latter there was quite an interchange of their Arizona experiences between Messrs. Stephens and Hardesty, and when they concluded, Justice Stanton said that while, from the evidence, he felt compelled to hold Short to appear before the Superior Court, he did not think that tribunal would find him guilty of more than simple assault, if they did anything. He therefore placed his bail at $300, which was given. Short's wife, with her baby, was in court, and took a lively interest in the proceedings.

Company Election.

Company F, Seventh infantry, held an election for officers last night at Armory Hall. Second Lieut. James B. Scarborough was elected captain, and Sergt. Oscar Ragland was elected second lieutenant. Brig.-Gen. E. P. Johnson and Majs. Russell and Barrett of his staff were present. Much interest in the election was developed.

PASADENA NEWS.

AN INTERESTING BUDGET OF LOCAL NEWS.

Home and Marriage—Church Gossip—Jack Mules—Interesting Local Pointers—Cheap Rates Wanted—Personal Mention.

PASADENA, May 13.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The morning papers had no more than been circulated on the streets this morning, giving a graphic description of the "hold-up" in Arizona, than a report rapidly spread that a local performance of that nature was enacted in this quiet and peaceful community at a late hour last evening. A young man by the name of Reynolds was riding a "silent steed" out on North Fair Oaks, and when near the Boston grocery store was knocked off of his bicycle by an unknown party and relieved of a few dollars in change. He was badly bruised on one side of the face, and his recollections as to how he reached home after the occurrence are very vague. Opinion is divided, some people holding that he might have been sandbagged, others contending that he accidentally fell from his machine and met with the above result.

HOME AND MARRIAGE.

Rev. P. F. Bresee, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave a most excellent and instructive talk last evening at the Tabernacle, on "Home and Marriage." The auditorium was filled, many young people being in attendance. The question of "why marriage is a failure" was outlined at considerable length by the reverend divine, one and the most plausible reason being advanced because of the allurements of the wine-cup. The lecture lasted about one hour, and was replete with anecdote and interesting conversation had by the pastor himself in his experience as a tier of knots. Every one present was entertained, and it is safe to say that the Doctor will be asked to give another talk on the same theme.

WHERE ARE THE NINE?

A progressive citizen says a cooperative cannery company would not pay. Experience has proven that in nine cases out of ten industries run on a help-each-other system no money was ever made, and that eventually the companies disorganized. This individual contends that if eight or nine gentlemen of means would take hold of the project, there could be money made. Where are the nine?

SLIM CHANCES.

Dr. Reid, chairman of the Enforcement Committee, and F. J. Polley, City Attorney, are authority for the statement that there is not a single saloon in the city. In other words both gentlemen emphasize the fact, that the spirit of the law is being carried out. Both of these officials are behind the times and would stand slim chances for positions on a local detective force. So say the reporters and many citizens.

CHEAPER RATES WANTED.

The difference in the prices charged for admission to the Grand Opera-house in this city and the Los Angeles theaters is the subject of a great deal of discussion on the streets. Probably the management will explain. One thing is certain, however, and that is the citizens and population in general have done little in drawing any paying attraction to the Grand. The distant location may be a reason with many, but in a town claiming a population of 10,000 souls, it stands to reflection that every good performance should draw a paying audience. No doubt on this very account Manager Wyatt and his able assistant are deterred from bringing first-class companies here. In the lingo of the profession of those who have played at this theater, the town has a "black eye."

CHURCH NOTES.

The Congregational Association of Southern California commences a three days' session in this city tomorrow evening. THE TIMES will give a full and detailed report of the proceedings.

Twenty-two people were received into the membership of the Universalist Church yesterday. This gives a total of 129 new recruits since the Sunday before Easter.

The State Convention of Universalist Churches will be held at Santa Paula on June 4, 5 and 6. A number of people from this city will attend.

Rev. M. B. Remick of Troy, N. Y., and wife will be the guests of Dr. J. H. Shults and wife of Orange Grove avenue during the next two weeks. Rev. Remick occupied the pulpit in the First Presbyterian Church yesterday, both morning and evening, preaching to overflowing audiences.

The Salvation Army continues to serve God in its rather demonstrative manner, but is accomplishing little in the way of saving souls. The musical contingent is yet on deck, and dispenses nightly their weird sounds through the streets.

The colored population are now gaining a stronghold in religious circles, and worship their Redeemer in four distinct meeting-houses.

LOCAL MENTION.

Property-owners are instructed to read ordinance No. 18.

Walter Raymond, proprietor and owner of the mammoth Raymond Hotel, is in the city and will remain for a month.

"Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Jennie Monfort and Mr. Elmer Chicken. This is pleasing social news, at which the many friends of the young people will rejoice. Look out for little Chicks."—[Union.

Charles F. Morse of New Haven, Conn., died at the Painter Hotel yesterday. His remains will be shipped East.

A child of C. H. Lindsley, while out playing in the yard last evening, fell down and cut her wrist very badly. A physician had to be sent for to sew up the wound.

The Board of Trade meet in regular session at its rooms in the First National Bank block tomorrow afternoon. The various committees for the work of the year will be appointed.

The Mrs. Hance, Keyes, Townsend and Lord are members of the W.C.T.U. Committee, appointed to investigate the part taken in a recent wine banquet by two local clergymen.

JACK MULES.

The following interesting "make up" is taken from the Union of this evening, the text of the article having formed several articles, which appeared in THE TIMES several months ago. Here it is:

"The large congregation of people who attended the services at the Tabernacle last evening were much amused on coming out from the building at the close of the services to see 'the burro club' in full force, about twenty in number, standing in a neat row, like a lot of ten pins, on the curbstone, each armed with a stinking cigarette and ornamented with a large cabbage rose.

"They looked very pretty standing there in the glare of the electric light, as they masticated their gum and smiled, oh, so sweetly, on the young ladies who elevated their noses, or held them, as they passed, to avoid the disagreeable cigarette smoke. The names of the young gentlemen of the club will be given next Monday."

PERSONAL.

C. N. Terry left this afternoon to rusticate at Long Beach.

Rev. N. B. Remick and wife of Troy, N. Y., are late arrivals in the garden.

Miss Edith Dexter left today to spend the summer with relatives in New York city.

Peter Steil of the celestial eyrie of Mt. Wilson came down from that high retreat today to visit his many friends in the valley.

Complains of Being Falsely Accused

PASADENA, May 13.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] The article in this evening's Union accusing me of instituting a committee of W.C.T.U. women to investigate the matter of wine and clergymen at the recent Board of Trade banquet, is wholly untrue. I had nothing whatever to do with the matter. The women acted on their own sentiment and judgment. I am informed of eight or ten who spoke on the case at their meeting a week ago last Thursday, and four who were appointed on committees to inquire into it and report at their next meeting. But the personal assault on me in the matter is utterly groundless, unjust and false. Respectfully H. A. REID,
Chairman Enforcement Committee.

THE EAST SIDE.

How Is the Utah Line to Get Under That Bridge?

Mrs. F. J. McCormack of 139 South Johnson street has gone to Topeka, Kan., her old home, on a visit.

Dr. E. T. Shoemaker will start east this evening with his family. While away they will visit in Chicago and New York city, and the Doctor will take a post-graduate's course in medicine, returning in about three months.

J. J. Roper has gone to San Bernardino to assist in the construction of a huge reservoir.

O. A. Moor is actively engaged in forming a company to develop some rich claims in the Santa Clara mining district.

Many citizens are anxiously inquiring what has become of the money paid by the Utah Railroad for the purpose of securing a right of way into the city down the north bank of the river, and for the continuation of the elevated portion of the Downey-avenue bridge over that right of way. It seems that the original plan is being worked out by the bridge company, contrary to the representations that have been made to the people, the roadway of the bridge reaching the north bank of the river at a height of about 15 feet above the level of the Glendale dummy line's tracks. The supports for the approach are also too close together to allow for the tracks of the Utah road.

SUPERVISORS.

AN OPINION CONCERNING CONSTABLES' FEES.

They Are Entitled to $1000 a Year and No More—Routine Business Transacted—The Board to Meet the Senatorial Committee.

The Supervisors met in regular session yesterday.

In the matter of the Lemon bridge across San José Creek, near Pomona, all bids were rejected, and the Clerk instructed to readvertise for bids.

The following opinion of the District Attorney in regard to constables' fees was read and filed:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: In answer to your communication of May 8th, desiring to know if the expenses of constables in discharge of their duty outside of their township is a legal charge against the county; also, if a constable is obliged to serve a paper which requires him to leave his town or county, we will say first, that under subsection 14 of section 167 of the County Government Act as amended by the last session of the Legislature, "Constables receive such fees as are now or hereafter may be allowed by law, provided that no constable shall receive more than $1000 per annum, which may be paid in monthly installments of not exceeding $83.33⅓ per month, for all services rendered by him in all criminal cases, or in actions or proceedings to which the people of the State of California are or may be parties, and no claim of any such constable in excess of said sum of $1000 per annum, or the installments thereof as aforesaid, shall be allowed or paid, but all fees collected by every such constable shall belong to and be the property of the county to which such constable has been elected or appointed."

It will thus be seen that the law in regard to the payment of constables is absolutely plain wherein it provides for all services rendered by him in all criminal cases which contemplate them. The amount set forth in the above extract from the County Government Act is to be in full payment for all services rendered by him in criminal cases. In no case is a constable allowed his personal expenses. His fees and mileage are full compensation for whatever services he may render. If a constable have a person in charge and necessarily pays for his transportation or for his meals or lodging, that is a legal charge against the county. A constable cannot claim $83.33 per month unless in his fees, mileage and necessary expenditures for prisoner amount to that sum. If a constable earn but $25 per month, that is all that he can collect from the county.

In answer to the second question, whether they are obliged to serve a paper which requires them to leave the town or county, a constable when placed in possession of a warrant or subpœna, must serve it anywhere in the county. I do not think a constable has any right to serve a paper outside of the county wherein the township that he was elected to serve is located. The attention of the board is respectfully called to section 167 of the County Government Act; also to subsection 225 of the County Government Act. FRANK P. KELLY,
District Attorney.

A petition for the formation of Fairmount school district was granted.

The opening of bids for the burial of indigents was postponed until May 27th.

The case of non-consenting land-owners in the Abbott and Tweedy roads was set for a hearing for May 24th.

The bid of P. H. Griffin and R. T. Oscar for building the Azusa jail was accepted.

E. E. Pollard was appointed Constable at Azusa to fill the vacancy.

The Clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a jail [illegible] cost $250.

Supervisor Martin was appointed a committee of one to investigate the matter of a jail at Lancaster.

W. H. Johnson was awarded the contract for grading the Lemon road.

CANCER
CAN BE CURED.

LIVINGSTON, Feb. 28, 1889.

Mr. J. H. Shore—Dear Sir: Yours of the 12th at hand. Yes. Dr. Frances Olmstead has cured me, and indeed it was a miracle, for I was considered past all help by all physicians who examined my face. I was a most horrible sight, the left cheek being entirely eaten away to a depth of two inches, cheek bone and rely destroyed, nose half-eaten off, nasal bone gone. The treatment is less painful than any other I have undergone the past fourteen years. Have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians, amongst them Mrs. Dr. Cook of San Francisco. Under her care eight months. Was in different cancer hospitals in New York. Dr. Olmstead cured me in three months. Rev. Mr. Wilson, Rev. Mr. Lewis and many prominent citizens of Merced can testify to the above facts. See the Doctor immediately. I know she can cure you. Yours truly, W. C. JENKS.

J. H. Shore is now under Dr. Olmstead's care. Lower jaw almost entirely eaten away. Improving rapidly. Any one having cancer can see him at the Doctor's office, 347 South Spring street, rooms 20 and 21, at 9 a.m. and 1 and 5 p.m.

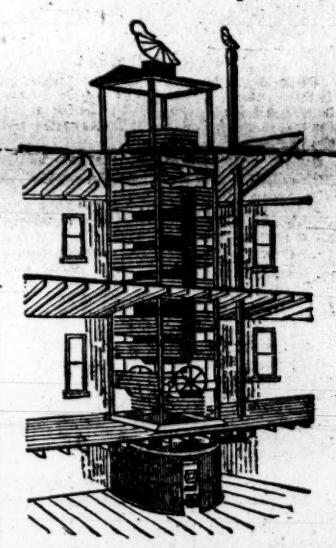
-:- The Williams Fruit Evaporator -:-



Is used more throughout the United States than any machine made. It will evaporate more fruit for the amount of tray surface with less labor than any other machine. Therefore it is the most economical and cheapest. Hundreds of them are in use throughout the Northern States for apples, while in the peach district in the Southern States there are ten to one of any other machine made. They are pronounced by those who use them, and have used others in connection, to be the only practical machine. Last year, 1888, seven were bought by different parties in Ventura county, this State, the same parties owning machines gave preference to the Williams, as others have done before them. I have a carload of these machines on hand now, but as there are several parties about purchasing now, as there will be more orders than I have machines now to fill, some orders will have to be filled at the factory, therefore send in your orders early. Send for catalogue and price-list to A. D. WILLIAMS,

NEW YORK, May 13.—Although the stock market today presented a more animated appearance at times than usual of late, it was still dull and listless for the general list, and the interest taken in speculation was confined to a few shares only and mostly to a single set of operators. There was, however, an undeniably strong tone, and the result of the day's trading is to leave almost everything in the active list materially higher than at the close on Saturday.

NOTABLE EVENTS WHICH HAVE HAPPENED ON THIS DATE.

The Occupation of Baltimore by Union Troops in 1861—Henry IV. and Louis XIII. of France—Fahrenheit—Jenner.

The passage of the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts troops through Baltimore, in the early days of the late unpleasantness, caused intense excitement in Baltimore, where Confederate sympathizers were numerous. The occupation of the city by Federal troops was deemed necessary to make the Union sentiment of the town predominant. Gen. Scott proposed to do this with 12,000 troops, but as so many soldiers could not be spared from Washington, the plan was impracticable. Gen. B. F. Butler, in command of Annapolis, advanced to Relay Station, nine miles from Baltimore, on May 4th, with the Sixth Massachusetts and Eighth New York Regiments. On the evening of May 14th the troops were placed on board a train and moved out a few miles toward Harper's Ferry, when steam was reversed and the train backed into Baltimore. It was near midnight, and a heavy rainstorm was in progress as the drenched troops marched to Federal Hall. The next morning the Baltimore Clipper contained an announcement that the city was in possession of a Federal force, and secession sentiment subsided gracefully to the inevitable, and Maryland was secured to the cause of the Union. Gen. Scott was so indignant at Butler's assumption of authority that he demanded his removal. President Lincoln yielded to the request, but made Butler a major-general and appointed him commander of the Department of Virginia.

HENRY IV. OF FRANCE.

By a singular historical coincidence, Henry IV. of France and his son and successor Louis XIII., died on the same day, May 14th, the first by assassination, the second of disease. In the afternoon of May 14, 1610, Henry IV. went to the Arsenal in Paris to see his minister, Sully, who was slightly indisposed. The King rode in his carriage, accompanied by the Duke of Epernon and other courtiers. On the road the royal carriage was stopped by a blockade of carts. During the delay, a crazy fanatic, Francois Ravaillac, stabbed the King twice in the side; the second wound was mortal, and the victim fell, expiring. The assassin when put to the torture, would make no confession, and was executed on the 27th of May following. The crime was variously attributed to the Jesuits, to a conspiracy of courtiers, and to the plots of the Courts of Vienna and Madrid. Henry's death saved the House of Austria from the most serious calamities, as the French King was about to engage in a great war against that empire.

LOUIS XIII. OF FRANCE.

Louis XIII., whose reign was made illustrious by the genius of Richelieu, died May 14, 1643. His tramps in the field failed to cure his profound melancholy. He had the windows of his chamber in the new Castle of St. Germain opened so that he could look out upon the Abbey of St. Denis, where he had just placed the body of the Queen, his mother, hitherto resting at Cologne. "Let me see my last resting place," he said to his servants. The crowd of courtiers thronged to the old castle inhabited by the Queen, Annie of Austria. Visits were made to the new castle to see the King, who still worked with his Ministers. When he was alone "he was seen nearly always with his eyes opened toward heaven, as if talking to God." At length, on Thursday, May 14th, "Friday is always my lucky day," said Louis XIII. "On that day I have gained battles. I should like to die on that day." His doctors told him they could find no more pulse. "My God, receive me to mercy," cried the King, and added, "Let us pray." While the Queen and all the court were kneeling in prayer, at 3 o'clock Louis XIII. softly breathed his last, on the same day and almost at the same hour at which his father had died beneath the dagger of Ravaillac 33 years before.

FAHRENHEIT.

The thermometer, by which the degree of heat and cold is indicated, is the invention of Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, the celebrated German natural philosopher and maker of philosophical instruments, who was born at Dantzic, May 14, 1686, and afterward settled in Amsterdam. He was originally designed for the commercial profession, but his inclination for philosophical study induced him to abandon trade and travel through Germany and England for the purpose of increasing his knowledge. In 1720 he first conceived the idea of using quicksilver instead of spirits of wine in the construction of thermometers, by means of which the accuracy of the instrument was very much improved. He was elected a member of the Royal Society of London, and died in 1740.

JENNER.

On the 14th of May, 1796, the immortal Edwin Jenner conclusively established the principles of vaccination, proving that it was possible to propagate the vaccine affection by inoculation from one human being to another and thereby at will communicate security to all who were liable to smallpox. A boy named Phipps was inoculated in the arm from a postule on the hand of a young woman who was infected by her master's cows. The boy was afterwards inoculated for smallpox, but without effect. This experiment proved that those who had had the cowpox could not take the smallpox, neither could they be inoculated with it. The results of Jenner's twenty years' experiments were published in 1798, in an extensive work, which was received with great favor by the medical profession.

M. HILTON WILLIAMS,

M. D., M. C. P. S. O.,

Office, Hollenbeck Block, corner Second and Spring streets, Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most improved medical inhalations and the Compound Oxygen treatment, which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections.

We take pleasure in announcing to the public that we combine the Compound Oxygen Treatment with our system of practice in the cure of asthma, bronchitis, consumption, dyspepsia, insomnia, sore throat, catarrh, rheumatism and nervous prostration.

The testimonials given below are very fair samples as to the time required for effecting cures in these troublesome cases:

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 14, 1888.

This is to certify that I had been afflicted with asthma and emphysima of the lungs for about 24 years. My disease was contracted in the army. I had tried almost every known remedy, both here and in the East, but nothing ever gave me permanent relief until I tried Dr. Williams's Compound Oxygen and other remedies. It is only about one month since I began the treatment, and already I feel like another man. I was so bad that for days I could hardly breathe, but I do positively feel that I am cured. The difficulty of breathing has been entirely removed, and I feel as well as I ever did in every respect.

JOHN W HOYT,
Employe City Water Works,
265 Bellevue Avenue, Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16, 1888.

It is a source of gratification to me to be able to testify to the very satisfactory cure Dr. M. Hilton Williams has effected in my case with his Compound Oxygen and other inhalations. After suffering several years with catarrh of the head and throat also bronchitis, which caused a very aggravating cough, I applied to Dr. Williams, who effected an entire cure in just two months from the time I began the treatment. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams as a Christian gentleman and a conscientious and skillful physician, whose cures seem almost marvelous in cases of consumption, asthma, bronchitis and catarrh.

MRS. L. A. THURSTON,
1422 Temple st., Los Angeles, Cal.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at my office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address
